An educational record separating visible observations from unknowns in one public photo from The Met. This is not a physical inspection or a before-and-after record.

Not established from this photo: tears in the fabric, strength of the joints, current condition or safe use of the chair, and the photography date. Lighting and folds are not treated as proof of damage. Source: The Metropolitan Museum of Art, Side chair (one of a pair), 29.119.4, Fletcher Fund, 1929. Photo released under CC0 1.0.
